Dear Advisor,

The Ph.D. in Interdisciplinary Studies offered through UA's Graduate School can only operate with the cooperation of members of the graduate faculty. A signature on this form means that you are willing to advise and mentor the applicant throughout his/her doctoral study, including the dissertation process. By signing this form, you also agree that the academic program being proposed by the applicant cannot be accommodated through any existing doctoral program at the University of Alabama.

Please be aware that if your advisee conducts research involving human subjects, you will be required to complete the IRB training.

The applicant is responsible for collecting both signatures on this one form and seeing that it is sent to the UA Graduate School. If you have any questions, please contact me.
