

ENGLISH, BA

The English major is a flexible field of study that focuses on reading, writing, and interpreting texts. English majors develop their skills in critical thinking, analytical and creative writing, public speaking, historical analysis, persuasive communication, and research. Through reading widely and deeply and learning to write and think carefully and accurately, English majors develop skills that help them find fulfillment in their personal and intellectual lives and success in a wide variety of careers.

Admission into the Major

Students may declare a major in English online under the Student tab of MyBama. Students are expected to formally declare a major no later than the fourth semester of full-time enrollment (or at 61 semester hours for transfer students). If students want, they can also add a concentration (a package of specific 4 upper-level electives) in Digital, Public, and Professional Writing.

Special Opportunities

Opportunities available in the Department of English include a senior honors thesis, the Sigma Tau Delta International Honors Society, internships in law, publishing, media, politics, and nonprofits, and the undergraduate Writers Guild. The department also offers a concentration and a minor in Digital, Public, and Professional Writing, as well as minors in English, Creative Writing, Interdisciplinary Linguistics, Shakespeare Studies, and World Literature. In addition, the department offers courses and resources for students interested in writing and editing, including the department's own in-house publishing house, Red Rook Press and the journals Dew Point, Call Me [Brackets], and Space: A Student Journal for Public Audiences. The Department of English offers 31 competitive awards and prizes and sponsors six study abroad programs. Contact the department for more information.

Senior Honors Thesis Option

The English Department offers students an independent thesis option in all four of its subfields: literary studies, linguistics, rhetoric and composition, and creative writing. Students with an interest in research and research-based writing and who have completed EN 396 with a minimum grade of a B can apply to enroll in EN 499, the independent-study thesis class. Students who complete EN 499 with a grade of an A or A- and who meet GPA standards will be awarded departmental honors for their research-based thesis. Students who wish to write a creative thesis and be eligible through this path for departmental honors can enroll in EN 398 and subsequently, apply to enroll in EN 498. Students should see the English Department website or contact the Director of Undergraduate Studies or the Director of Undergraduate Creative Writing for additional information.

Sigma Tau Delta

Sigma Tau Delta, an international English honor society, aims to promote a mastery of written expression, to encourage worthwhile reading, and to foster a spirit of fellowship among its members. Students who enjoy literary study, have twelve semester hours of English, and hold a 3.3 GPA or higher are eligible to apply. The society, along with the department, annually makes an award to the English major with the highest overall GPA. UA chapter members can also submit analytical and critical works to present at the annual Sigma Tau Delta conference held each spring.

Students earning the bachelor of arts (BA) degree with a major in English must complete all University, College and departmental degree requirements. These include the general education requirements, the
